

45th CHICAGO INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL

2009 CHICAGO INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL (Oct 8-21) Media Accreditation Policy

In order to receive media credentials to cover the 45th Chicago International Film Festival, all journalists must submit their media accreditation application form along with all supporting materials. Any requests submitted without supporting materials will be considered incomplete. Completion of application form and submission of supporting materials does not guarantee accreditation. Applicants will be notified about the status of their requests as soon as possible after receipt of all materials.

In addition to returning a completed application form (below), all journalists requesting media credentials must submit the following three (3) supporting materials: a recent copy of their publication or edition of their broadcast program; a hi-res digital headshot (j-peg format submitted on cd or by e-mail); and a signed and dated letter from their editor or producer on company letterhead that assigns them to cover the Festival. This letter must provide basic information about the publication or broadcast outlet (format, circulation or audience reach, publication or broadcast frequency, target demographics, etc.) as well as outline in as much detail as possible the frequency and type of planned Festival coverage (reviews, interviews, social coverage, etc.). Please send all requests and supporting materials to:
